I contacted these guys through my friends facebook and they sent it my way in. Edit InpuPanel to see your gear info in realtime. I was grateful for the.. I am sorry that I have to give you the Crack. You deserve a Genius Award.New Search Search Elliptical and Spin cycles The cycle can be used in between pure cardio exercise and toning- the only difference is that instead of elliptical or spin you are going to do some core work. The resistance should be similar to what you would do on spin (5-15) and you can do it for an hour or even a few hours depending on how much you want to work. This is a great way to burn fat and calories. The real secret of this is starting small and building. It takes a little more time and dedication to achieve results, but this is really easy to do. Try one day at a time and you will see big results. You will be pretty sore the first few days and then your body adapts. This is where those elliptical trainers come in handy. You can even do it at home with an elliptical trainer and many offer video of you working out on the elliptical. I did all of these rounds on my exercise bike so each 20 minutes I was doing a 10 minute cardio rest followed by a 10 minute core work rest. The weight I did was 3-5% more than my max weight. So if I did 225 lbs I would do 225 lbs-225 x 4 rounds for a total of 1800 calories burned.Q: read_lines() crashing while parsing lines read_lines() is crashing while parsing lines in text file. I have not even printed or access 'line' value after debugging line. Below is my code snippet where I am trying to extract lines from text file: f = open('C:\\Users\\imran\\Desktop\\chars.txt') lines = [] for line in f: line = line.rstrip() line = line.split(',') line.append(1) line.append(2)

How to create a table using ArcPy? I am trying to get the data from an excel sheet and create a new table but I am using ArcPy.
The values of the data come from different fields I will be needing a lot of data so I thought it will be ideal if I don't have to go all the way to enter it from the excel sheet one by one. The structure of the table is like this: `Attrib_id | Attrib_Name | Attrib_value`
