The aim was to investigate awareness of multidisciplinary team (MDT) meetings in Swedish inpatients and patient satisfaction with their treatment. This was a descriptive study where two groups of patients admitted to three university hospitals were asked about awareness of MDT meetings. The first group was randomly selected at two units (n = 121). The second group included those who participated in MDT meetings in the last year (n = 141). The questionnaire contained 10 questions about awareness of the MDT meetings and 15 questions about satisfaction with inpatient treatment. One hundred and twenty-six patients answered the questionnaire. One hundred and six patients (85%) were aware of MDT meetings at their hospital. Sixty-one patients (49%) of those who did not participate in MDT meetings in the last year nevertheless reported to be aware of them (p Q: How to use regex to change URLs to permalink I have a text file with lots of URL's.
